Gov. Stevenson Sends Budget To Legislature

$1.2 Billion Sought for Next Biennium

By CHARLES WHALEN
SPRINGFIELD — (AP)—Gov. Stevenson today handed the legislature a two-year state budget of $1,206,291,000.

He urged the lawmakers to guard its "delicate balance" so that Illinois "may be an example of thrifty management in a time of fiscal peril."

The budget is down $15,132,000 from appropriations of new money available during the current period ending June 30.

The Democratic governor said he was happy to report that Illinois, unlike other large states, will need no general purpose tax increases.

Stevenson is backing a two-cent

SPRINGFIELD, (AP)—There is no "Christmas tree" appropriation in the budget submitted today by Gov. Stevenson.

The 1949 "Christmas tree" bill dished out $225,000 in state funds to 20 veterans groups and other non-governmental organizations.

The governor didn't veto that bill. But he questioned its legality and said that donation of public funds to private organizations was "undesirable and discriminatory."

He told reporters today there is no appropriation for this purpose in his new budget.

gasoline tax boost but this money could be spent only on roads.

Says Budget Is Balanced.

He said the budget is balanced. But the balance between expenditures and resources is "precarious," he asserted, and could be tilted in the red by a drop in consumer buying which would cut tax income, or if legislators add to the total.

The governor, in his message prepared for a joint legislative session, reported the state "can make ends meet for another two years, in spite of the increased cost of everything we build and everything we buy from hospitals to handkerchiefs."

This can be done, he said, by "close control of expenditure and expansion, by reduction of our building construction, and thanks to a sharp increase in tax receipts occasioned by the menacing inflation since Korea."

No "Surprises"

The budget contained no surprises. Appropriation bills carrying out the spending plans will come in later, and the legislators will then decide on actual amounts.

Counting reappropriations, the budget aggregate is $1,300,909,000 compared with $1,334,460,000 in

Runaway Trailer Strikes Car of School Principal

A runaway trailer yesterday evening ran down an auto driven by B. J. Frazer, Dixon high school principal.

The trailer came unhooked from a car driven by Eugene Edward Blow, 42, Slayton, Minn., while Blow was driving north on Galena avenue.

Swerving from behind the Blow auto the trailer crashed into the front of the Frazer car proceeding south on Galena. The collision occurred at 7:30 p. m. at Galena and First street. The bumper of Frazer's car was damaged extensively.

Allied Drive in North Korea Stops Short of Big Reservoir

TOKYO—(AP)—Allied troops reached the southern shores of the sprawling Hwachon reservoir today but stopped short of the big North Korean dam and hydro-electric plant.

AP Correspondent Tom Bradshaw reported from the central front battleground that the water behind the dam still is about 200 feet deep. The Reds opened 10 of the reservoir's 18 floodgates Monday in a try to halt the Allied drive. But water quickly subsided to near-normal levels in the Pukhan river, reservoir outlet.

Yanks Pace Assault
American units paced the Allies' assault on the dam. The Communists fought back with a steady barrage of mortar shells.

Bradshaw said it was believed the Chinese lacked the equipment. In the air, American F-86 Sabre jets shot down one Russian-type MIG-15 jet fighter and damaged another. The air battle was fought at low level over "MIG Alley" near Sinuiju in northwest Korea.

Other Fifth air force planes Tuesday flew close support missions for the Allied infantry and continued their dawn-to-dusk attacks on Red supply lines.

Movie Star Admits He Joined Communists

Calls Action Most Stupid Thing He Did

Linked With Reds After War to Find Key to Democracy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Movie Star Sterling Hayden said today he joined the Communist party in 1946, but that he now thinks this "was the stupidest, most ignorant thing I've ever done in my life."

"I went into it with an emotional and very unsound approach," Hayden told the house un-American activities committee.

He said he joined the party in June, 1946, and broke with it in December.

He said he was turned against the party upon finding there wasn't anything democratic about it, something he had been led to believe while he was working with the Yugoslav underground as a marine lieutenant during the war. "I got out."

"It took me a couple of months to realize that they believe they alone have the key, that they know what is best for everyone. 'I decided to get out. And I got out.'"

Hayden said he signed up with the party at the request of a Bea Winters.

Miss Winters, he said, was a former secretary for a Hollywood agency, Allen Berg, Inc., which later became the William Morris agency. He told the committee he doesn't think the agency knew about Miss Winters' beliefs.

Joined After Discharge
He joined the party, he testified, after his discharge from service in December, 1945, and his return to civilian life which he said he found "disturbing."

The 35-year-old actor said he went back to Hollywood uncertain whether to go to his original job as a seaman, or whether to do something "about this political thing" he discovered while serving in the Yugoslav partisan movement as a U. S. army agent.

Finally, he said, Miss Winters asked him: "Why don't you quit talking and join the Communist party?"

"I joined the party," Hayden said.

This Driver Had Reason For Worries

FLORA, (AP)—Jesse Poole had reason to be excited for his case of nerves after his truck and a car collided yesterday.

The truck was loaded with about 6,000 pounds of nitroglycerin. No one was seriously hurt but Poole, 29, of Linton, Ind., was visibly shaken.

"The stuff could easily have gone off," he said. "I don't know why it didn't."

The explosive was being shipped from Linton to Salem, Ill., for use in oil well drilling.

Occupants of the car were identified as William Earl Pierson, 23, of Fairfield, and Henry Terris, 25, of Mercer, Wis., tree surgeons. They were treated at a hospital for minor bruises. Their car was badly damaged.

Loyalty Oath Opposed by IEA Teachers

FREEDPORT, (AP)—The Northwestern division of the Illinois Education Association last night opposed any legislation which would single out teachers to take loyalty oaths.

A resolution protested against teachers being required to sign such oaths unless all other state employees also were required to.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to State Rep. Charles W. Clabaugh, (R-Champaign) sponsor of a loyalty oath bill now pending in the state legislature.

The Northwestern division of the IEA embraces Winnebago, Stephenson, Boone, Carroll and Jo Daviess counties.

Poet Brands TV, Movies Time Thieves

WOOD RIVER, (AP)—Carl Sandburg, noted poet and biographer, recommends walking out under the stars in favor of watching television or the movies or listening to the radio.

"These modern thieves of time will steal from you precious hours that can never be regained once they are lost," he told an audience at a high school last night.

The nation's greatest thinkers, he said, never saw a movie, heard a radio or watched a TV set.

Issue Licenses

Two marriage licenses were issued Monday by the county clerk. Applicants were Joseph R. Goy, and Miss Vivian C. Leffelman, both 20, Sublette, and Harold I. Mighell, 35, and Miss Mary Jane Hanson, 27, Dixon.

The Result of a Country Road Crash

THIS CAR WAS demolished when Norman Faber, Rt. 1, Amboy, hit an Amboy Milk company truck at a crossroads one mile north of Maytown and 3 1/2 miles west of Rt. 26 Monday morning. The accident sent Faber to Amboy hospital with a fractured shoulder and multiple lacerations. Both the car and the truck overturned. The Illinois state highway patrol is now conducting a campaign against accidents which happen on country roads as this one did. This month the Dixon junior chamber of commerce is conducting a driving safety campaign to maintain Lee county's high safety record.

Extra copies of The Dixon Evening Telegraph centennial edition will be available but orders must be placed with this newspaper within a few days. Only a limited number of copies will be printed and they will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis.

The Telegraph has been allotted a restricted amount of newsprint for the publication of this anniversary edition and when this amount is consumed it will not be possible to extend the press run. Each paper will contain between four and five pounds of newsprint.

Every regular subscriber, as of April 10, to The Dixon Evening Telegraph will receive the special edition as part of their regular paper on May 1, but many inquiries have been received by this newspaper relative to forwarding extra editions to friends in other parts of the United States as well as foreign countries. Many subscribers have also indicated that they wish to secure additional copies for their homes and libraries.

The cost of extra copies will be 75 cents and no advance orders will be accepted after April 25. If any copies are available after May 1 the price will be $1. If subscribers wish extra copies mailed there will be an additional charge of 25 cents for postage within the United States and 50 cents for foreign shipment. All orders, either at the Telegraph office or by mail, must be accompanied by check, money order or cash. It will be impossible to accept phone orders.

A special wrapper has been printed and will be used to mail these editions all over the world. The wrapper is imprinted with special 100th anniversary emblems and carries a headline, "A Century of Reading From Dixon, Illinois." All extra copies will be mailed directly from the Telegraph office.

The newspaper will contain hundreds of pictures and articles which will be of interest to everyone who has lived in Lee, Ogle or Bureau county or who has friends or relatives in this area. One hundred twenty years in these three counties will be unfolded in the pages of the centennial edition. Here, readers will have a complete record of the annals of history with all its humor and chaos, with hundreds of pictures and a million words. No other newspaper has ever attempted to publish as thorough a recording of time as will be found in The Dixon Evening Telegraph Centennial Edition, Tuesday, May 1, 1951.

Amboy Scene of Only Contested School Election

Amboy will be the scene of the only contested school election in Lee county outside of Dixon Saturday.

With two school board members to be named, Amboy voters will choose between Bert Hinrich, incumbent, Fred Leake and Howard Leffelman in the community district 272 election.

Leffelman is certain to be elected, as only three members of the board are permitted to be Amboy residents. Two holdover members live in Amboy.

Three incumbents are running in East Lee community school district 271 without opposition. They are H. Donald Hay, Oregon, Louis F. Rodgers, Paw Paw, and P. A. Beitel, Steward.

Navy Ousts Employee Named by Sen. McCarthy as Subversive

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The state department said today the navy has suspended former Commander Stephen Brunauer "under navy department loyalty and security procedures."

Brunauer has been employed as a civilian on explosives research for the navy.

Along with his wife, Mrs. Ester Calkin Brunauer, the former officer was named by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) last year in a list of government employees McCarthy regarded as subversive.

In announcing the navy action, the state department said it had suspended Mrs. Brunauer from a department job pending the outcome of navy action on Brunauer.

She has been employed by the department's United Nations relations staff as a liaison officer.

Denies She's Red
At the time of McCarthy's charges last year, Mrs. Brunauer declared she was not, "never have been, and couldn't possibly be a Communist."

She described her husband as a "thoroughly loyal American" a vigorous anti-Communist and "able and brilliant scientist who made a distinguished contribution to the war effort."

She said she received a navy letter of commendation and the order of the British empire decoration.

Cites Achievements
"As a result of what he did during the war in the field of high explosives, certain new explosives were developed which were of great value in anti-aircraft and undersea warfare," Mrs. Brunauer said then in a statement.

She said her husband once had Communist connections shortly after he came to this country at the age of 18 as an immigrant from Hungary. But she said they resulted from a youth's need for companionship which led him into the Hungarian section of the Young Workers League.

Mrs. Brunauer said her husband quit the league in 1927 after he began to understand the workings of the Communist movement.

Bonding for New Schools Is Explained

Voters to Decide Saturday on Most Important Issue

Voters of school district 170 will go to the polls Saturday to elect two school board members and to decide on a $1,600,000 bond issue to build two new grade schools.

Further explaining issues involved in the bond issue A. H. Lancaster, district superintendent, today pointed out that the assessed valuation of the district is $18,740,015. He said that because of the transfer of $11,988,200 worth of capital stock of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois from Dixon to Chicago, the bonding powers of the school district will be reduced.

Limit Is Set
The issuance of bonds must be limited to five per cent of $36,741,885. The outstanding bonds for the Lincoln school building and other school sites amount to $22,000. This sets a limit of $1,600,000 for the proposed new bond issue, Lancaster stated.

The INU company has entered an agreement with the board of education to make a payment of $124,000 July 1, 1952. Additional payments will be made with the reduction of 20 per cent each year for a period of four years. These payments will relieve the burden of the transition period for the local tax payers, according to the superintendent.

Cost: About $13.85
Lancaster said, "It is estimated that the proposed bond issue would make an increase of $13.85 for a home owner with a house with a full valuation of $5,000 and a total tax in the amount of $98.15 for 1951. The increase for a person paying personal tax in the amount of $49.07 in 1951, would be $6.92."

Additional classrooms will be required as soon as more bonds can be issued, the school board has decided. This can be accomplished by making payments on the present and proposed bond issues, an increase in the assessed valuation of the property in the district or an increase in the legal rate for the issuance of school bonds, according to Lancaster. "It seems desirable to build two buildings now and to build additional school rooms at a later date," Lancaster said.

A detailed map of school district 170 and description of the boundaries will be published Wednesday by The Telegraph.

The issue is much older and embraces more than the immediate point of whether Red China should be bombed and Chinese Nationalist troops employed. It involves the fundamental question of whether the western powers should concentrate upon Europe's defense to the relative expulsion of Asia.

It goes back to the early bitter days of the Pacific war when MacArthur was by-passed in favor of Europe.

Runway Coal Barge Perched on Mississippi Dam Near St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Minn.—(AP)—A runaway barge loaded with 1,400 tons of coal rested precariously today on the brink of the Ford dam, threatening to break it and loose a five-mile head of Mississippi river water.

The 195 x 35-foot barge lodged sideways against the dam after breaking loose from moorings at the Minneapolis municipal docks late yesterday. It floated downstream under five bridges before hanging up on the 28-foot dam.

The head of water above the dam extends about five miles upstream to St. Anthony falls at Minneapolis. St. Paul industrial areas are about seven miles downstream.

A huge field of ice cakes built up behind the barge. Thousands of evening rush hour spectators lined the river banks and freely provided unsolicited advice on how to rescue the maverick barge.

U. S. army engineers, who operate the dam and two adjacent locks, went into a huddle this morning over what to do.

Senators Douglas, Kefauver Listed As Demo Hopefuls

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Jonathan W. Daniels, biographer of President Truman, said last night that if Mr. Truman does not seek reelection in 1952 the likely candidates would be Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois or Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Daniels addressed a Jefferson-Jackson day dinner here. He said that 18 years of Democratic administration fulfilled the "destiny" of the American people.

Sources Say He Was Given No Reprimand

Demands More Troops, Permit To Use Bombers

TOKYO—(AP)—Gen. MacArthur made it plain to his superiors today that he intends to keep right on fighting for a freer hand in the Korean war.

He authorized a spokesman to sharply deny news reports that Army Secretary Frank Pace, Jr., had reprimanded him for recent public statements deemed to be verging on politics.

The spokesman added that since the reports were carried by a British news agency, Reuters, "Probably the wish was father to the thought."

With some British voices already clamoring for MacArthur's scalp, this seemed like fresh defiance from the United Nations commander-in-chief.

"Mac" Stands Pat
Informed sources also said that MacArthur stood pat during a two-hour conference Monday with Pace on views that have provoked a storm of controversy in Washington, London, Paris and elsewhere.

These views include belief that an all-out war must be waged against Communism wherever the threat appears; that it would be a mistake to neglect Asia in order to emphasize defense of Europe. He is understood to have asked Pace for more troops.

Informed sources said MacArthur not only had asked Pace for more troops but for greater latitude in fighting the Korean war. (Presumably MacArthur sought the right to bomb Chinese bases in Manchuria which are supply heads for Communist troops in Korea. MacArthur has called frequently at the "privileged sanctuary of Manchuria.")

What's His Aim?
Critics have accused MacArthur of departing from purely military problems to engage in discussions of a political nature.

Just what is MacArthur trying to do?
From this war-conscious capital it appears that he is fighting for a sincere belief in a military necessity.

The general obviously believes what he says: That UN forces can win in Korea only by expanding the war to Red China; that otherwise the allies face a devastating stalemate.

Appeal to Opinion
There are growing indications that the general and his aides are appealing to American public opinion, either over or around the administration. "For one thing, a close check of editorial comment is made here."

The issue is much older and embraces more than the immediate point of whether Red China should be bombed and Chinese Nationalist troops employed. It involves the fundamental question of whether the western powers should concentrate upon Europe's defense to the relative expulsion of Asia.

It goes back to the early bitter days of the Pacific war when MacArthur was by-passed in favor of Europe.

Higher Corn Yield With Less Acres Shown in Practice

South Dixon Farmer Has Good Record

Legume Practice Plus Soil Tests Provide Answers

Carlton F. Gusse, South Dixon township, has increased his corn yield 31 per cent since 1945 when he had 55 bushel an acre corn yield. In 1950 it was 72 bushels. The yield was even better in 1948 and '49 when it was 80 bushels.

In 1945, 55 acres produced 3,025 bushels of corn. In 1950, 50 acres produced 3,600 bushels according to Carlton's Farm Bureau farm management records.

Forage Climbs Too
The story with forage production has been even more spectacular with an increase of 166 per cent in the same period of time. In 1945 forage production was 1.5 tons an acre. This has climbed until last year four tons an acre were harvested as hay and pasture. This he has utilized profitably through his herd of Jersey cattle.

How can this be done in such a short period of time? By testing the soil, applying fertilizers according to needs, and growing more and better legumes in a good five-year rotation, along with the necessary supplementary conservation practices.

Credits Legumes
Gusse acquired his 160 acre farm seven years ago. He started contouring and rearranging his fields in 1946. His field arrangement was established in just three years with the exception of a few minor changes which are being made this year.

Gusse says, "Deep rooted legumes have improved the drainage on this farm a great deal." He added, "The quality of grain has improved greatly since I acquired the farm several years ago."

Builds New Crib
Gusse likes to use lime, phosphate, and potash alone because he believes it encourages greater root development than if commercial fertilizers is placed close to the plant. He says his corn remains green all through the hot summer months.

With the added profits Gusse has built a new corn crib to accommodate his increased corn crop from even fewer acres and has completed a modern kitchen and workroom in the home. This story

Many Farmers Will Be Killed In Tractor Accidents in April

CHICAGO, April 10—Several Illinois farmers will be killed in tractor accidents during April unless farmers are more careful this month than usual.

That prediction was made today by John Lake, safety director for the Illinois Agricultural association.

"Past records show that each April, as spring field work starts on Illinois farms, some farmers get careless with their tractors, and get killed," Lake said.

Five Died in '50
"Last year, five Illinois farmers lost their lives in April tractor accidents," he said. "In 1949, tractor mishaps during April brought death to eight of the state's farmers."

Many of these accidents were caused when tractors tipped over, he said. They could have been avoided if farmers had been more careful about crossing ditches or getting tractors that were stuck out of mudholes. These are two danger spots that cause many tractors to tip over, the IAA safety director said. The IAA is the statewide Farm Bureau organization with more than 181,000 farm families as members.

Others Injured

Besides causing these deaths, tractor accidents in April, 1950 left three persons with permanent injuries and temporarily disabled 14 others.

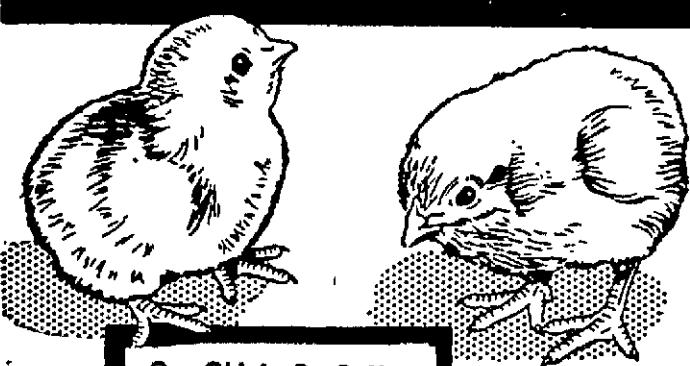

Other farm machinery also used during April is also dangerous, Lake declared. For example, two persons were killed when hit by plows during the month last year and another lost his life when run over by a grain drill.

Farmers were also warned by Lake to be careful when cutting down trees. Four Illinois farmers were killed by falling trees last April.

To avoid accidents, follow the rules of safety, Lake said. Don't get in to big a hurry and try to cut corners. Don't work too long and get overtired. And with tractors, watch where you're going. "Such rules save lives," Lake concluded.

us being repeated more and more in Lee county as farmers follow good rotations and recommended practices.

Newest Ideas In Pig Feeding At Conference

URBANA—The newest ideas in creep-feeding baby pigs will be one subject farmers can learn about at the annual Illinois Swine Growers' day on Thursday, at the University of Illinois.

Fifty sows and their litters were used in three experiments last fall to study the value of various creep rations for suckling pigs. The tests also helped to compare the palatability of several feeds and rations when offered free-choice to baby pigs.

Report on Tests

R. J. Meade, assistant in animal science, is scheduled to report on these tests during the morning program in the auditorium.

One test compared the value of hulled oats and pig supplement fed free-choice with a dry "synthetic milk" ration. Another test compared the hulled oats and pig supplement ration with a high-efficiency broiler ration and with a mixed pig starter ration. The third test compared a variety of rations fed free-choice.

Sows Self Fed

In all three experiments the sows were self-fed shelled corn and a sow supplement made up of 100 pounds of meat scraps, 100 pounds of solvent soybean oil meal and three pounds of iodized salt on either alfalfa or brome grass pasture. The pigs had access to the creep rations in an outdoor

Ceilings Said Weak Tools in Inflation Fight

Price Ceilings Are Poor Weapon Against Inflation

URBANA—A University of Illinois authority today declared that price ceilings are a pretty weak tool in stopping inflation. Four other tools are more important.

Agricultural economist L. J. Norton says these are the more important tools: (1) effective controls over credit and currency supplies, (2) a federal budget as nearly balanced as possible, (3) abundant supplies and (4) a more realistic attitude by consumers and businessmen as to how plentiful most supplies will be.

"Foolish Buying"
The economist says there has been a lot of foolish buying in the last eight months by the public, businessmen and government. There is no need for it. A cooler view of the situation would be healthy and would help to keep prices from rising.

There are as yet no plans to cut supplies of civilian goods anything like during the war. Among agricultural products, only wool and cotton are really scarce. And even with present military and foreign demands, much of our heavy food production will be used at home.

In fact, Norton believes if stocks in the pantry, closet, deep freeze, meat locker and warehouse should be used or sold, it would noticeably lower market prices of many products.

Curb Bank Credit
The economist says expansion of bank credit, which adds to the funds available for loans, was a prime factor in causing the inflation from June 1950 to February 1951. The recent unpegging of the price of government bonds is a step to control credit.

To bring the budget closer to balancing next year, we need close control of all expenditures and higher taxes. These steps would hold down the public debt.

Abundant supplies would help to eliminate unnecessary buying which pushes prices up.

All told, says Norton, consumers had better look elsewhere than to price ceilings for protection against high food costs. They would be little protection if goods should really become scarce.

Clean Farrowing Houses Aids Sows Raise Good Litters

URBANA—Give your sows a chance to raise healthy litters by thoroughly cleaning and disinfecting the farrowing house. But be sure to use plenty of water to rinse the pens if you're using a coal tar disinfectant.

Dr. P. D. Beamer, a University of Illinois veterinarian, cautions farmers that a baby pig's tender skin may be severely burned by such disinfectants.

Dr. Beamer also advises farmers not to sprinkle dry coal tar disinfectants in the bedding. One farmer who did this recently reported losing four little pigs from skin burns.

However, if you follow directions and rinse the disinfected areas with water, there's little chance that your pigs will be harmed.

Annual receipts of Illinois barber shops and beauty parlors total more than 58 million dollars, according to the Census Bureau.

Illinois 4-H Clubs Cooperate With Japanese Groups

Japanese 4-H'ers Send Morning Glory Seeds to Illinois 4-H'ers.
URBANA—"Working Together for World Understanding" is the 1951 4-H club theme. And it should have a lot more meaning to 40 Illinois 4-H'ers because of a unique "hands-across-the-ocean" project.

Miss Anna Searl and E. I. Pilchard, state leaders of 4-H girls' and boys' club work in Illinois, have received 40 packages of Japanese giant mixed morning glory seeds.

They came from one of the most active 4-H club leaders in Japan as a small token of gratitude for help received from American 4-H'ers in building 4-H club work in Japan.

This leader sent 2,000 packages of morning glories, one of Japan's most popular flowers. They were redistributed among all states, Illinois receiving 40 packages. Miss Searl and Pilchard say that one package will be sent to each Illinois delegate to the 1950 National 4-H club congress. Each 4-H'er must keep a record of the blooms and report on their size to the state 4-H staff.

Board Keeps Cows From Kicking Hay Back Into Gutters

URBANA—A Winnebago county dairyman has solved the problem of keeping the straw bedding under his cows from working back into the gutters. He simply put a 2x4 board back of the cow's feet.

Harold Howland, tester in Winnebago No. 3 dairy herd improvement association, says the dairyman laid the 2x4 flat just on the edge of the gutters. The board runs the whole length of the barn.

The farmer found this trained some cows to keep their feet out of the gutters and was also helpful in training heifers to stand up in their stanchions.

And speaking of bedding, Gerit Laseur, tester in Cook county No. 1 DHIA has another tip. One of his members uses chopped canary grass for bedding. It makes nice, clean bedding and keeps the barn and cows neat. This is the first winter the dairyman has used canary grass for bedding, but he plans to chop more of it next year.

BULL ON CRUTCHES—This Guernsey bull at the veterinary clinic of the University of California, Davis, Calif., is able to walk on the special crutch fitted to its fractured shoulder. The novel crutch is adapted from the Thomas splint often used for immobilizing human fractures. The animal will be able to discard the crutch in about four weeks. New techniques developed at the university clinic offer new hope for saving valuable animals which suffer fractures.

University Women Split On Politics

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(AP)—The 115,000-member American Association of University Women is split into two camps today over political issues.

One group claims the association's national legislative committee shows Democratic favoritism and should be dropped.

The other contends the legislative program is valuable as an educational force and should be retained.

Both sides presented strong arguments to back up their contentions yesterday at the opening of the AAUW's biennial convention.

A delegation from Oshkosh, Wis., headed by Mrs. Norris F. Krohn, spearheaded the anti-legislative forces.

It feels it is impossible for the association to determine how its 115,000 members would vote on specific national proposals and that it wasn't meant to be a political organization in the first place.

On the other side of the fence was Mrs. Robert Lamkin of Alexandria, Va.

"The legislative program is one of the most educative forces in the whole program," she said. "We would be very embarrassed to be an organization of educated women who cannot take a stand on vital issues."

Watch for Foot Rot in Cattle In Wet Weather

Springtime is Foot Rot Time
URBANA—Watch for swollen feet and limping among your cattle; foot rot time is here.

Dr. Ray D. Hatch, University of Illinois veterinarian, says the germ that causes foot rot lives in the soil all year. Wet weather may cause breaks in the skin between the animals' toes and thus make it easier for the germ to get into the foot.

Call Your Vet

If you suspect foot rot, call your veterinarian. Prompt treatment pays. If not halted, foot rot can even penetrate the bone. Sometimes a toe has to be amputated if the infection is far advanced.

Your best insurance against foot rot is a well-drained yard free of all pieces of scrap and wire that might injure the animals' feet. Dr. Hatch emphasized that keeping your cows' feet dry and free of cuts and scratches will reduce the possibility of foot rot.

Having your cattle walk through a vat filled with a solution of copper sulphate is not always satisfactory. Usually the solution fails to penetrate far enough to reach a deep-seated infection.

Almost two billion dollars are spent annually in Illinois retail food stores, according to the Census Bureau.

Plan Windbreak Demonstration On Local Farms

Glen Grimes and J. M. Thompson are making their farms more comfortable both for themselves and their livestock by planting windbreaks. All are invited to come and see these planted on April 12 and 13. Within 10 years these windbreaks should be giving protection.

All are invited to attend either of these demonstrations. The first will be held on the Paul Charters' farm operated by Glen Grimes, at 1:30 p. m. Thursday. This farm is located about one-half mile north of U.S. 30 on the gravel road north of Harmon.

The second demonstration will be held on the J. M. Thompson farm located 3 1/2 miles east of Scarborough. This will be held at 9 a. m. on Friday, April 13.

At an earlier date James T. Somers, farm adviser, and G. R. Cunningham, from the forestry department of the University of Illinois, measured and made plans of the farmsteads of these farms. Cunningham will be present at the demonstrations to answer questions and show how windbreak plantings should be properly made.

Wage-Bonus Pact May Be Answer to Good Farm Worker

URBANA—If you're wondering how to get good farm help and keep it, maybe the answer to your problem is a wage-bonus agreement.

J. B. Cunningham, farm management specialist in the Illinois college of agriculture, says it's only natural for top men to work on farms where their skills and know-how are rewarded best.

Going Wage

He points out that the hired man should receive the going wage in your community, plus a bonus on production or gross income from one or more main products. The bonus should be based on the size and type of farm, ability of the hired man, length of tenure and so on. Several payments during the year are better than one payment. The agreement should be simple and in writing. Here are some bonuses suggested by Cunningham.

1. Three to six per cent of the milk checks, payable monthly or when checks come in.

2. Fifty cents to $1 per 100 pounds of milk sold above an agreed amount of annual production per cow, say 5,000 to 7,000 pounds.

3. Fifty cents to $1 per 100 pounds of pork or beef produced during the year.

4. Fifty cents to $1 for each pig weaned.

5. Five to 10 cents a dozen for eggs sold over 12 dozen (or some other standard) per hen each year. Or five to 10 per cent of egg sales.

6. Two to five cents per bushel of grain produced.

There are many other possible types of bonuses. But above all, the hired man should have a good, comfortable, pleasant place to live. Cunningham says no plan will work well unless he and his family are reasonably happy and content with their living arrangements.

—The Centennial edition of The Evening Telegraph will weigh four pounds and will contain 270 pages, the largest single edition in midwest journalism history. Watch for it on May 1.

The population of Illinois increased 10.3 per cent between 1940 and 1950, compared with the national gain of 14.5 per cent during the same period, according to the Census Bureau.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

False-dealing travels a short road, and surely detected.—William Penn.

Peron Press Jumps on U. S. and Latin-American Meeting

Argentine press coverage of the Latin-American foreign ministers meeting in Washington offered a fine example of Peronism in action. With the great independent daily, "La Prensa," of Buenos Aires, suppressed by the Argentine government, the remainder of the newspapers in that country did a rough job of criticizing the conference and the United States and neighboring countries, particularly Brazil. Also, copies of Argentine newspapers airmailed to the United States during the conference reveal that there was much printed criticism of the U. S. press, apparently for its interest in the closing of "La Prensa" and the flight Uruguay of its distinguished editor, Dr. Alberto Gaimza Paz.

Nearly 400 newspaper correspondents were accredited to the Washington meeting of the Latin-American foreign ministers meeting. Most of them were correspondents permanently stationed in Washington. But nearly 50 were Latin-American correspondents sent to cover the meeting for Spanish and Portuguese language papers, magazines, news associations and pools of papers.

From the Argentine came one man, Carlos V. Dobarro. He was accredited as a photographer from Agencia Latina, an Argentine press association. But Buenos Aires newspapers received in Washington reveal that he also filed daily dispatches, appearing principally in "Democracia" and "Critica." These are the mainstays of the Peron press in the Argentine capital.

Anything You Can Do . . .

One of Dobarro's first dispatches, appearing in "Democracia" not long ago, was headed, in free translation:

"America Faces Problems Already Solved by Peron." After noting that the opening session of the conference was held in Constitution Hall, "that seat of reaction," he wrote that "this probably accounted for the cold and formal nature of the proceedings. Then came this paragraph:

"The Argentine people, accustomed as they are by now to seeing their problems solved through persevering action on the part of their justicialist government—popular well-being, education and social security—would be astounded to witness the fact that these problems are still mentioned (at this conference) in terms of promises for the future."

This note of Argentine superiority to the rest of the world appeared in other dispatches. In one it was noted that "the Argentine continues to stand on a solid economic foundation, while the economy of Brazil has been sold out to the United States by the Rio government." This appeared in "Critica."

An editorial in the same paper declared:

"Assistant Secretary of State Miller (who is in charge of Latin-American affairs) has lately been devoting himself to recommending a generous policy of 'cooperation,' the purpose of which would be to have the Latin-American countries ship their products—for the sake of idealism—without considering, for the time being, the insignificant problem of payment in dollars.

"Needless to say," the editorial continued, "there are always distrustful people, like one Latin-American diplomat (not named) who summarized his impressions as 'This is merely a new good neighbor policy. We are good, they are the neighbors.'"

Threatens to Balk U. S. in UN

"Democracia" followed this up with a veiled threat of opposition to United States policy in the United Nations. It editorialized as follows:

"Just as thus far the American newspapers have hardly given any publicity to the meeting, it also seems to be forgotten that the 20 votes of the Latin-American nations may decide anything in the hall of the United Nations.

There has been violent attack on the American press, in all the Buenos Aires newspapers. This is probably in retaliation for American press attacks on the closing of "La Prensa."

A recent editorial in "Critica" declared, "Yankee journalism seeks scandal and lives on scandal. Its circulation is based on calumny, on insult, on sensationalism and never on information."

On the same day, "La Epoca" had a long article headed:

"The Majority of Dailies in U. S. Have No Freedom."

And "Noticias Graficas" in an editorial declared that "American Journalists Are Agents of Wall Street." This same editorial noted with smug satisfaction that the Argentine occupies the safe "third position" between communism and capitalism.

On the announcement by Argentine President Peron that his government had solved the mystery of atomic power, the Argentine press declared that the news had "a devastating effect" in Washington. State department officials were reported to have "grabbed their hats and run to the Argentine embassy to find out what it was all about."

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, (NEA) — The Laugh Parade:

Broadway producer Jed Harris is still burping.

Shortly before David Niven began his co-starring role with Joan Caulfield in "The Lady Says No," he attended a Hollywood party and met, among the guests, a short, dark man. Later in the evening, his hostess asked about his New York television experiences and Niven said loudly and emphatically:

"Television must be done on film. The live camera work is ghastly. Everybody, men and women alike, all come out looking like Jed Harris.

Suddenly Niven's voice trailed off and he cast a horror-stricken look at the short, dark man to whom he had been introduced earlier.

"I'm frightfully sorry," he stammered. "Your name is . . . ?"

"Jed Harris," came the cold, icy reply.

Dane Clark's favorite B. S. Pully story involves a crap game in which Pully is blithely switching dice. Caught red-handed with two pairs in his hand, Pully maintains an innocent stare and a deadpan, flips the dominoes and says:

"Okay—duh perat's sixteen."

Katharine Hepburn and Vanessa Brown became staunch friends during the tour of the Theater Guild's "As You Like It." One night Kate called Vanessa into her dressing room and began to hold forth on American museums.

She always made it a point to visit every local museum when she toured, she declared, and it would be a good idea for Vanessa and the other cast members to do the same.

At noon the following day, Vanessa showed up at the city museum and began to study the directory of exhibits. A kindly, white-haired guard approached her and said:

"Young lady, may I suggest the basement? We've got Katharine Hepburn and a lot of early American antiques down there today."

The Andrews Sisters, Pattil, Lavorne and Maxine, are concentrating on television now. They completed an expensive TV pilot film some weeks ago. A song-plugger visiting the set congratulated them on knowing the lines.

"We have to know the lines," Pattil dead-panned. "We're paying for this picture."

HOW IT'S DONE

Shortly after Peter Lawford had introduced Sharmen Douglas to his mother, Lady Lawford, Sharmen paid a visit to the Lawford manse to have a private chat with the charming Englishwoman.

Lady Lawford insisted on talking about the "shocking" can-can that Sharmen had performed with Princess Margaret Rose at a benefit affair to the consternation of Parliament.

"Perhaps I shouldn't ask this," Lady Lawford said, "but would you please do the can-can for me?"

Sharmen obliged but for the next half-hour Lady Lawford proceeded to show ex-Ambassador Lewis Douglas's daughter how to do a bona-fide Parisian can-can.

"I was a dancer before I married Sir Sidney," she told Sharmen, "and you're doing it all wrong."

The waiters at a local spot have never quite recovered from it. A young actor finished a hefty steak and asked his waiter to wrap up the bones. The waiter returned with the packaged bones a few minutes later and said he hoped the dog would enjoy it.

"Dog?" thundered the actor. "Don't be ridiculous, man. Those bones are for my agent."

Westbrook Pegler

Visits Hoover Peace Tower on Stanford Campus and Reflects on a Few 'Fronts' Operating Out of New York (Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

San Francisco—Finding myself near Stanford University, I brought me of the Hoover tower on the campus, a tall, square, spire full of documents bearing on peace and efforts to preserve and disturb the same.

An inscription in the foyer says "The purpose of this institution is to preserve the peace." The very atmosphere seems to murmur "peace."

In this tower, so far from the Waldorf Tower in New York I found a collection of New York letterhead fronts whose literature seemed to me to be bellicose. I refer to the Waldorf Tower because Herbert Hoover and Arthur J. Goldsmith live and carry on correspondence there. Mr. Goldsmith's propaganda fronts, which camouflage the true nature of their common address under the insignificant line "100 East 50th street." For years Goldsmith has gotten by as a dragon in a secret lair and people have been tipped past, afraid to mention his name. However, when I tried to poke him up and make him snort, he shrank back into his three-room suite and sulked.

I am taking the long way around to analyze the half-dozen fronts which do business out of Mr. Goldsmith's, and will drop that shoe in due time. Meanwhile, I can say that one of them did send money to Senator Tobey's campaign in New Hampshire notwithstanding that new deal Republican's pietistical denials when Dough-Head O'Dwyer was on the television. I can tell you, too, that Alben Barkley used to call at the lair, and David K. Niles, as well. (Excuse, if you can, my feeling, not akin to respect, on learning that two gentlemen, prominent in the "let's you and him fight a war" movement, each had a bellicose son of eligible years, neither of whom heard a gun fired in anger when the chance came to make their daddies proud. One of these papas sent wheelchairs to Mr. Niles, at the White House, to keep his pride and joy out of harm's way.)

The Hoover library, among other works, accumulates propaganda published for peace and war, examines it and files in cabinets just to keep the record straight. So, today, when I asked the gentle lady in charge for something on Mr. Goldsmith's fronts, she was able to whip out a remarkable breakdown.

This analysis listed 100 more or less harmless, habitual joiners of fronts of a type which Herbert Swope, himself an inveterate joiner, recently described as syncretistic. These rosters are like the lists of "those at the speaker's table" in the banquet season back in the happy days. That was good, clean fun. But then these platitudes incarnate got infected with acute, compound, galloping ismatism, and a lot of bail-bond lawyers and lipstick magnets got into a scramble to see who could hang most medals on the first lady of the universe in the names of their private "foundations."

People lost their sense of humor and proportion and when that happens you get kapok dragons.

The breakdown named eleven fronts, all in New York. Three had the common address of 8 West 40th street. There were two each at 32 East 51st street and 1270 56th avenue.

About Ben Goldsmith had joined nine out of these eleven. Frank Kingdon, who got a salute from the committee on un-American activities, also joined nine but ran second in the alphabetical order. The analysis said most of these things originally waged propaganda for war.

Some opposed the shipment of food to women and children in Belgium, Holland and Poland. Recently, some of them abused persons who had opposed the war before Pearl Harbor.

Dainty Johnny Farrar, the literary lily with the golden soul, had joined eight. The Russell Davenport, Mr. and Mrs., not necessarily in the order named, scored seven each. Mr. Swope, a dashing afterdinner commando at an exposed table, had joined six. Clark Eichelberger, a strange case, turned up in five. He is listed in Who's Who as an executive of organizations, which seems to mean that joining is his life work. Mrs. Daisy Harriman was in five and Louis Bromfield, a guy who can't say "no," joined four. George Fielding Eliot, the Australian windjammer, turned up in three, but his score will go up when I get to the secret bunks in the Waldorf.

Excuse me, now. I have to write to Senator Pat McCarran, of Nevada, about letterhead cutting, it gets cut, and so on.

So Mrs. M's idea of "borrowing a baby" now and then is a pretty good one.

It's a Pleasant "Occupation" She feels useful. Liking babies as she does, she gets a lot of satisfaction out of having one in her own home.

And she has a lot of young friends because she is doing something that they appreciate, without making it seem that she is doing favors.

Any older woman living alone, not knowing what to do with all her afternoons, and evenings could take a tip from Mrs. M.

Borrow a baby now and then and see if living isn't a lot more fun.

And don't think it will be difficult to find a baby to borrow. Just ask a young mother who is tied down if she wouldn't like to lend you Junior for a few hours while she shops. See how easy a thing it is to arrange.

Hat cleaning is an $898,000 a year business in Illinois, according to the Census Bureau.

RUTH MILLETT

'Borrowing Baby' Can Pay Dividends to Older Folks

One of the happiest older women I know lives in a house by herself an hasn't even a relative nearby. She stays in touch with neighborhood life and makes herself loved by the young couples by "borrowing a baby" now and then.

That is her term, "borrowing a baby," and it accomplishes what she wants it to. It gives the couples whose babies she "borrows" for an afternoon or evening the feeling that they aren't imposing on her in the least when they leave their baby with her for a few hours.

She doesn't go to their house like a baby sitter and she doesn't take any pay. The couple just drop Junior and a little necessary equipment at Mrs. M's house and she "borrows" the youngster until their return.

Since there is no money involved, the couples go out of their way to do thoughtful little things for Mrs. M. If her lawn needs cutting, it gets cut, and so on. So Mrs. M's idea of "borrowing a baby" now and then is a pretty good one.

It's a Pleasant "Occupation" She feels useful. Liking babies as she does, she gets a lot of satisfaction out of having one in her own home.

VOICE of the PEOPLE

Editor, The Telegraph:

MAYOR HOFMANN IS EITHER CONFUSED HIMSELF OR HE IS TRYING TO CONFUSE THE PEOPLE.

Last Friday's Telegraph carried an article from the pen of the Mayor in which he went to some length in an effort to show that a previous article relating to tax matters, had resorted to misquotations and distortions. When the Mayor speaks of misquotations and distortions he knows not whereof he speaks. What we said previously we repeat again.

However, we are perfectly willing to go along with what the Mayor says in the second paragraph of his article. Quote: "In the first place, I want to go on record as a man who respects another's opinions and believes that anyone is entitled to his opinion, as long as he or she is right in their facts. When the facts are misquoted or treated in such a manner as to exaggerate or distort, then I lose faith in that person's opinions and statements." Unquote.

Now read the last sentence again!

Quote: "When the facts are misquoted or treated in such a manner as to exaggerate or distort, then I lose faith in THAT PERSON'S OPINIONS AND STATEMENTS." Unquote. Let us not forget that! Those are tender words.

The Mayor proceeded in his article to detail the tax monies for the eight years prior to the present one. He makes no mention at all about taxes received for the operation of the city for the present fiscal year which has but a few days to run. Is it his intention to disregard the last year of his administration altogether? He never included the monies received in taxes for this year in his summary. Why? Doesn't he know the City has received $212,493.45 from the County Treasurer during the present fiscal year?

In order to set the people straight on the matter and, also the Mayor, here is a correct summary:

TAXES RECEIVED FROM COUNTY TREASURER BY PRESENT ADMINISTRATION: Fiscal Year Amount 1947-48 $187,647.75 1948-49 200,218.68 1949-50 218,599.63 1950-51 212,493.45

Total received by present administration $818,959.56

Jacoby on Bridge 'Miracle' Turns Out To Be Luck

By OSWALD JACOBY

Sometimes the play of a hand looks miraculous, almost as though declarer could see through the backs of the cards. The answer usually is that there is no other hope, so that declarer must assume that the cards will lie favorably. For example, we might take the hand shown today, played in the Regency Club recently by my friend, Alfred Sheinwald, who seems to specialize on weird plays.

West's opening heart lead was taken by dummy's ace, and a low diamond was returned at once. Sheinwald put up the jack from his own hand, and West won with the ace.

The reason for this apparently useless play was that declarer wanted to find out who had the ace of clubs. East surely had one his ace anyway, much to his disgust.

This play was not, of course, difficult. East was marked with the ace of clubs, so it couldn't do any good to put up dummy's king. The only hope was that East would have to play his ace on a small club.

East returned a spade, and declarer drew only two rounds of trumps. Then he led a club to dummy's king even though there was a trump out and East was known to be out of clubs.

Once again, the play looked harder than it really was. Sheinwald could not make the hand unless he could clear the club and then get back to his hand (with a trump as the only possible entry) to cash the remaining clubs. The hand was impossible unless West had the last trump.

Luck was with him, so he made his contract.

Q—With neither side vulnerable your partner deals and bids one diamond. The next player doubles. You hold: Spades K-J-7-3, Hearts Q-10-6-4, Diamonds Q-3-2, Clubs K-8. What do you do?

A—Redouble. This is your general way of showing a strong hand. Your partner is requesting to pass unless he can double the intervening bid (if any). You are willing to double any spade or heart contract, and you will welcome any double that your partner may make.

by present over and above previous administration of $229,711.06.

Note: The above figures are obtainable from public audit of city for years shown except that for fiscal year 1950-51 which are obtainable through the office of the County Treasurer. Since the fiscal year 1950-51 has not ended obviously no public audit is as yet available. These totals, remember, do not include funds received from such sources as parking meters, fines, licenses, etc. Only those from the County Treasurer.

Well, there you are. An increase of exactly $229,711.06. NEARLY A QUARTER OF A MILLION DOLLARS! That's what we said before. That's what we say now! It is a true statement. It is a positive statement. Nothing misleading about it at all. Distortions of facts in that summary. It's the truth.

We also said that the increase of $229,711.06 amounted to an increase of approximately 40%. We said that before. We say it now! There is nothing misleading about that. No distortion of facts whatever. It's the truth. Figure it out for yourself. To be exact, and while we are at it let us be exact, it is 38.98%.

We said the tax rate, as we saw it, was the RATIO at which the total tax collected bears to the value of the property assessed. We said that before. We say it now! Nothing misleading about that. No distortion of facts there.

We suggested that most people realize the cost of labor, supplies and materials had increased in cost during the past several years. We said that before. We say it now! Nothing at all misleading or distorting about that.

We asked the question if the Mayor was trying to show that other taxing bodies in the community were receiving huge sums in taxes but not the city. We said that before. We say it now! It was a direct question. Nothing misleading or distorting about that.

We asked the question if the Mayor was trying to show that the community were receiving huge sums in taxes but not the city. We said that before. We say it now! It was a direct question. Nothing misleading or distorting about that.

When the Mayor accuses others of misquoting and distorting facts it would seem the better part of good sense to make sure that he himself had not been the party to such a charge. If anyone is misquoting and distorting facts may we suggest the Mayor himself inasmuch as his quoted annual average increase in taxes received during his term of office of $48,203.69 is, indeed, several thousands of dollars below the actual and correct average.

Since the Mayor has chosen to bring up the matter of distorting facts we would reluctantly but respectfully direct the attention of the citizen, to a portion of page 4 of the 1950 audit of the city. Quote: "It should be pointed out that expenditures for the above 2 years are not entirely comparable because OTHER FUNDS are used to absorb part of the FIRE, POLICE AND STREET EXPENSES. As in prior years, it was noted that some disbursements were not properly classified in order to prevent expense accounts from reflecting expenditures in excess of budget appropriations. Although the amount were not large we recommend that this procedure be discontinued inasmuch as it tends to DISTORT the financial statements." Unquote.

WHAT IN THE NAME OF COMMON SENSE GOES ON HERE?

Now what does the public audit say about distorting?

Read that last sentence in the quote from the audit again, friends.

Just who is responsible for this distortion of the financial statements?

Now, friends, and Mr. Mayor, too, we make just this one direct question. Who has been misquoting and distorting the facts? It wasn't this writer, I assure you.

In conclusion, friends, we suggest the whole matter boils down to one of two things. EITHER THE MAYOR

Army Halts Employment Of Civilians

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The army has directed all its installations to hire no more civilians unless specifically authorized by the army department.

An army spokesman disclosed the order today. He said the action was taken to bring the army's civilian manpower strength down to the ceiling set on March 2 by the Defense department.

The ceiling limits the army to 500,000 civilian employees — the bulk of them in ordnance depots and the rest of them distributed through a wide variety of clerical and other activities. It now has 509,000 employees.

The order specifies that where units are now overstrength, no replacements shall be hired to take the place of persons leaving employment.

Navy and air force spokesmen said their civilian strength is under established ceilings. The navy ceiling is 460,000 civilian personnel, and it now employs 408,170. The air force ceiling is 295,000 civilian employees, with 230,000 now employed.

Spy Hunt Still on

NEW YORK—(AP)—The government's hunt for most Russian spies is extending into espionage activity dating back more than 20 years, U. S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol says.

Some of the suspects, Saypol says, "have been active in the Communist party."

Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, was also the inventor of the aileron which replaced wing warping as a method for control of airplane flight.

British Labor Defeated on Cheese Issue

LONDON — (AP) — Winston Churchill's Conservatives baited a parliamentary trap with rationed cheese last night and defeated Britain's Socialist government by 18 votes.

But it was no formal motion of censure, and the Laborites—disregarding demands of the delighted Tories—viewed it as a minor matter not requiring Prime Minister Attlee's government to resign.

The vote was sprung by the Conservatives on a seemingly routine and comparatively calm debate on the question of Britain's cheese ration. The government had ordered it cut back to two ounces a week. The Conservatives wanted the previous three-ounce ration.

The vote was 237 to 219, with 168 members not voting.

Apollo Boys' Choir Coming Here Thursday

The Apollo Boys' choir, which will appear before the Dixon Civic Music Association at 8:15 p. m. Thursday, April 12, at the Dixon high school auditorium, was organized by its director, Coleman Cooper, in 1935. It is an American version of the Vienna Boys' choir, which won world fame before the war. In this country the Apollo choir is a somewhat pioneer group and was the only one prepared to replace the renowned European choir when its activities were halted by the war. A non-sectarian, non-profit ensemble of singing boys who travel far and wide giving concerts of serious music is not a usual phase of American life.

The fact that the Apollo Choir has surpassed all standards set by the European visitors has been firmly established by America's leading critics, and is a matter for national pride. This probably accounts for the organization's tremendous success and capacity concert business in all 48 states; also its frequent demands for return engagements.

The choir members range in age from 9 to 14 years and are all boys of superior intelligence. On tour, their diet and living habits are as closely watched as are those of Olympic athletes during the games. Besides a broad program of activities centered around the school in Dallas, Tex., a summer camp with a befitting schedule of music and recreation is maintained in the mountains. Extended concert tours are made each fall and spring.

Willard Fast Will Direct Choral Work

When the Community Choral association meets at the Loveland Community house tonight at 7:30, they will have one purpose in mind — to welcome their new director, Willard S. Fast.

Fast, popular choral director of Dixon high school, and must assistant of Dixon grade schools, is well learned in music and enjoys every minute of it, as his reputation well discloses.

A graduate of Mankato Teachers' college, Mankato, Minn.,

West Michigan college, Kalamazoo, Mich., and University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich., Mr. Fast received a bachelor of music degree from James Millikin University, Decatur, Ill.

While in Decatur, Mr. Fast can be credited as the director of the talented Student Nurses' choir at Decatur Macon County hospital.

He and his wife, Betty Jeanne, moved from Decatur to Dixon in September, 1949, and from that time, Mr. Fast has taken an active interest in church and school choirs of Dixon, as well as many other extra-curricular activities.

All members are urged to be present tonight and as a group, spread the welcome mat before Willard S. Fast. New members are invited to attend and join the choral group.

Friel, Maytown, for her wedding to Thomas Garland, son of Mrs. Mary Garland, Sterling. Yellow jonquils decorated St. Mary's church, Walton, for their 11:30 a. m. wedding, Saturday, April 7. Rev. Robert Donavon officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. John Faivre, Maytown, nuptial organist and vocalist, played and sang, "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother"; "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus" and played a prelude of music before the ceremony.

Her full length nylon marquisette veil, edged in lace, was held in place with a tiara of seed pearls. The bride carried a white orchid on a white prayer book, a gift from the bridegroom, and wore a double strand of pearls. She carried a blue lace hankie, a gift.

Miss Veronica Friel of Oak Park, sister of the bride, wore a spring green gown styled with a lace top and net skirt. White roses and baby jonquils were in her headpiece and she carried a colonial bouquet of spring flowers.

Edward Kent, Dixon, was best man and the ushers were Robert Garland, Tampico, cousin of the bridegroom, and Larry Mulford, Sterling, cousin of the bridegroom.

She carried a colonial bouquet of spring flowers. Gary Garland, brother of the bridegroom of Sterling, as ring bearer was in formal attire to carry the rings on a heart shaped satin pillow.

Mrs. Everett Gugerty, Walton, sister of the bride, wore a lavender dress with navy accessories for the wedding and the bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue suit with navy accessories. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Garland, Sterling, wore a black suit. All of

GOP Charges ROK Troops Demobilized

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson may answer today Republican complaints that 250,000 South Koreans aren't fighting the Communists because they have no weapons.
Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said this report ought to be investigated by a congressional commission he wants sent to the Pacific to look into Gen. Douglas MacArthur's disagreement with Truman administration officials over conduct of the war in the Far East.
MacArthur has endorsed a proposed second front by Chinese Nationalists in China, a move administration backers say might lead to all-out war with the Reds and possible Russian intervention. Britain and France have expressed disturbance over the statement.

With the White House maintaining silence on any possible presidential rebuke for MacArthur, there were these developments:
1. Senator Knowland (R-Calif) supported House Speaker Rayburn's contention that the country is in "terrible danger," but Senators George (D-Ga) and H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said the senate foreign relations committee has been told of no new crisis.
2. Senator Watkins (R-Utah) proposed holding up the dispatch of U. S. troops to the North Atlantic defense force until the situation in the Pacific clears.
Might Provoke War
3. Senate Democratic Leader McFarland denounced a charge by Senator Malone (R-Nev) as the kind of a statement "that might shout us into war." Malone told the senate yesterday "unwise" administration policies had "converted a 100-year-old civil war in China into a war between the

Knetzer Will Pay Balance To Creditors

SPRINGFIELD, (AP) — Robert L. Knetzer, bankrupt Edwards-ville, Ill., car dealer, promised yesterday to pay $178,000 to creditors by May 1.

Knetzer's lawyer, Saul Cohn of East St. Louis, Ill., told Federal Judge Charles Briggie that the payment will satisfy the balance of creditor claims.

Knetzer paid over $5,000 yesterday. Cohn said that further payments of $5,000 each will be made every five days until May 1. On that date, the balance of $158,000 will be delivered.

Give No Clue

Neither Knetzer nor his attorney told the court where yesterday's $5,000 came from. Nor did they give any clue to where they would get the remaining payments.

Knetzer was jailed in March, 1950, for contempt of federal court. However, he has been released six times—in custody of marshals—to seek partial payments on the money the court demanded.

He presumably returned to jail after making yesterday's payment.

Knetzer has been indicted on state charges of fraud in the operation of his car business. He was accused of accepting down payments on automobiles he was unable to deliver during the time cars were scarce, or of making refunds.

Mass of Lawsuits

His operations resulted in a tangled and mountainous mass of lawsuits.

Knetzer was jailed for contempt by Judge Briggie after an audit of his business indicated that he had undeclared assets of $250,000 which he could apply on creditor claims. Knetzer paid only $25,000 at that time. However, in his six trips out of the jail, he raised an additional $47,000.

Find Body of Second Miner

EVELETH, Minn., (AP) — Rescue digging ended in the Spruce Iron ore mine at 6:15 a. m. today with the recovery of the body of the second of two miners trapped by a cave-in last Friday.

Late last night—more than 82 hours after the roof collapsed in a tunnel 564 feet below the earth's surface—workers found the toe of a boot worn by Frank Putzel, 43.

Earlier yesterday, the body of Putzel's companion, 53-year-old Frank Korcha, was recovered. He was badly crushed.

Three shifts of 30 miners each had been laboring night and day in the hopes that Putzel and Korcha would be found alive. The work was slow and arduous. They could progress no more than a few inches an hour.

Officials of the Oliver Iron Mining Co., operators of the mine, said death was probably instantaneous in both cases.

STORE-BOUGHT BITE—Those store-bought choppers put a nice bite on a big apple, thinks four-year-old Ralph Warren Gill Jr., of Bartlett, Tenn. His first teeth decayed and impaired his speech and health. Now he boasts a full set of false teeth, uppers and lowers. As his permanent teeth grow in, the plastic ones will be removed and holes bored in plates to let them grow.

Aldermen Get 'Absentee' Pay, Are Indicted

SAVANNA—The mayor of Savanna, eight aldermen, the city comptroller and a former comptroller must face the bar of justice in Carroll county circuit court following action Monday by the grand jury.

The 11 city officials were indicted on charges of accepting payment for city council sessions they did not attend. The information against them was filed by State Attorney Lawrence A. Smith.

Asks Repayment

Smith appeared before the council following a grand jury probe last month and demanded the council members pay back $345 allegedly "swindled" over a three-year period. The aldermen ignored Smith's warning.

All will be arraigned Friday morning in circuit court in Mt. Carroll before Judge Leon A. Zick.

According to L. E. Phillips, president of the council, "This is a practice which has been in effect for many years including the four years during which State's Attorney Smith served as Savanna city attorney."

Name 10

Persons named on the indictments besides Phillips are Mayor Rhene B. Law; comptroller Elayne Truninger; former comptroller, Chester Cramer, and Aldermen George Correll, Cleveland Holey, L. R. Chapin, John Slick, Dr. G. W. Cassel, F. J. Stiles and Herman Lorenz.

TOP GRADE SCHOOL CAGERS

Ernie Nevers Named Fullback On All-Time Football Squad

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—(AP)—Ernie Nevers, who lent pulverizing power to the great Stanford teams of the early twenties, was named fullback today on college football's All-Time All-American.

This dream eleven plus second and third teams, first ever chosen on such a broad and representative scale, are being picked in a nationwide poll by the Associated Press to provide nominations for the National Football Hall of Fame.

No player has yet been named to the $5,000,000 shrine planned at Rutgers university here, but it is probable most of if not all the players named on these three teams will be among the early selections.

Court to Select
The honors court of the Hall of Fame will make the final selection. The shrine has been endorsed by the National Collegiate Athletic association.

Nevers completes a backfield that includes Walter Eckersall, the famous little running and kicking star of Chicago, at quarterback and the immortal Red Grange of Illinois and Jim Thorpe of the Carlisle Indians at halfbacks.

This line-splitting ball-carrier adds goal-line punch and all-around efficiency to a foursome that has no weakness.

The ruddy-faced, blond bull-dog played at Stanford in 1923, 1924 and 1925 under Coach Glenn S. (Pop) Warner, one of the sport's eminent pioneers.

Nevers' Bull Record
During the three years Nevers was in the backfield, Stanford won 21 games, lost 5 and tied one.

Nevers was an exceptionally hard-running back, a splendid passer and rock-ribbed stalwart on defense. He was named fullback on the 1925 All-American team picked by the Associated Press.

In the balloting the Stanford star received 317 points to beat out Felix (Doc) Blanchard of Army and John Kimbrough of Texas A. and M. who followed in order to make the second and third teams.

Nevers hardly knew what it was to lose so it's a bit ironic that one of his greatest individual performances was given in a Stanford defeat. That was the famous Rose Bowl game of Jan. 1, 1925 when Stanford met Notre Dame with its Four Horsemen and Seven Mules.

Coach's Match Wits

It was one of Pasadena's most sensational struggles—with Warner's wizardry matched against Knute Rockne's resourcefulness and the all-around brilliance of Nevers against Elmer Layden, Harry Stuhldreher and company. They say Nevers' plunging was never greater and he was the individual star of the game although Layden's pass catching and pass interceptions led the Irish to a 27-10 victory. Nevers now lives at Mill Valley, Calif.

TRIBE HURLERS SLOW
NASHVILLE, (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' pitching staff rates with the best in the majors, but their exhibition game record doesn't show it.

"We have the same trouble every spring, and it always straightens itself out," says coach Mel Harder, who refuses to fret.

Early Wynn, the Tribe's probable starter in its home opener, and Mike Garcia are the only Cleveland hurlers who have started and finished an exhibition game this spring. Each did it last week and won. Bob Lemon, who is to hurl the opener in Detroit, went a full nine innings of Saturday's 11-inning contest.

COMPLETE LINEUP

Here is the complete All-time All-American football team as picked by the Associated Press Poll:

ENDS—Hutson, Osterbaan.
TACKLES—Nagurski, Henry.
GUARDS—Heffelfinger, Suffridge.

CENTER—Schultz.
QUARTERBACK—Eckersall.
HALFBACKS—Grange, Thorpe.

FULLBACK—Nevers.
COACH—???? (to be named Thursday).

Uncle Miltie New Derby Favorite After Victory

NEW YORK, (AP)—If you want to see the probable favorite for the Kentucky Derby and can't wait until May 5, at Louisville, go out to Barn 17 at Jamaica. That's where Uncle Miltie hangs out these days.

Uncle Miltie, a Cinderella colt hobnobbing with the elite names of racing, put on a terrific show yesterday when he roared down the stretch to win the six-furlong Prospects purse at a whistling 1:10 1/5.

Four-and-a-half lengths back of banker Joseph J. Colandro's Pennsylvania-bred flyer was the 1950 two-year-old champion, Battleground, a badly whipped second.

In sixth place was the other of the so-called "big three" for the Derby—Preakness-Belmont, Green-tree Stable's Big Stretch. Uncle Miltie carried 117, Battleground, 123, but the difference in poundage meant little the way Uncle M. ran.

Kiner Gets Post As Representative Of NL Players

CINCINNATI, (AP)—Ralph Kiner's National league teammates have chosen the likeable Pittsburgh batting ace to speak up for them at the major league club owners' table.

Election of the 28-year-old home run prince as the senior loop's player-representative was confirmed by secretary of baseball Walter Multry here yesterday. Multry said that Pres. Ford Frick of the National league flashed him the word.

Kiner steps into Marty Marion's shoes, joining the American league's Freddy Hutchinson of Detroit in representing the players before the club owners. Marion had to bow out as player mouthpiece when the St. Louis Cardinals upped him to manager.

Atkinson Leads

NEW YORK, (AP)—Ted Atkinson is the leading jockey of the current Jamaica meeting. Popular Teddy has had 36 mounts, winning on eight of them. He was second seven times and third six times. Eddie Arcaro, with eight winners in 29 mounts, rated second. But he only had six seconds and one third.

Rizzuto, Page, Reynolds Fly East for Exams

Bombers' Pennant Hopes May Rest On Results of Trip

DALLAS, Tex.—(AP)—Phil Rizzuto, Joe Page and Allie Reynolds are hospital bound today.

On the results of their physical checkups at Johns Hopkins may hinge the New York Yankees' chance for another American league pennant and world's baseball championship.

Page, the Yankees' brilliant relief pitcher in 1949, was a disappointment last year, but before arm trouble popped up this spring, he flashed his old form.

Reynolds, a 16-game winner last season, hasn't been able to do much at all this spring because of his arm.

Rizzuto, the American league's most valuable player, said he didn't think his injury was serious. "I expect to be on hand opening day," he said last night.

Rizzuto said he hurt his side playing and yesterday when he tried batting practice "it was a little bad."

Rizzuto Cheerful
But he insisted, "It's nothing serious. 'I'll be okay."

The three players were to leave here today by plane and expect to arrive at Baltimore, Md., tonight.

Rizzuto, who hit .324 last season, was given an orthopedic seal to wear.

The Yankees start defense of their world's championship next Monday in Washington. Without Reynolds they have only two regular starting pitchers—Vic Raschi and Ed Lopat.

Players Stay Behind
The Yankees, who dropped an 8-5 decision to Boston of the National league here yesterday, left town soon after the game. The three players stayed behind.

Rizzuto did not appear worried over his injury and tried to brush it off.

But if he and Reynolds are not ready to go when the season starts, it will undoubtedly hurt the Yankees, figured to battle for the title with Cleveland and Boston's powerful Red Sox.

SOX RELIEVERS BUSY
BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(AP)—The Chicago White Sox show promise of having one of the best relief pitching corps in the majors—and maybe one of the busiest.

So far the five front-line twirlers have failed to show anything startling. They are lefties, Bill Pierce and Bob Cain and right-handers Joe Dobson, Howey Judson and Lou Kretlow.

"We have to start somewhere," says manager Paul Richards. "We'll try them and if they don't go, we'll try somebody else."

The fireman group includes Luis Aloma, Hal Brown, Harry Dorish and Tom Hurd.

And while we're on the subject, let's hear from Arch Ward's Wake and comment:

"TWO YOUNGSTOWN

Oaks, Wakefield Part

Ex-Detroiter To Seek Job In Majors

Dollar-a-Year Pact Terminated by Mutual Consent

OAKLAND, Calif., (AP)—Dick Wakefield, a 1941 bonus baby who signed a dollar-a-year contract to play ball with Oakland this season, has been given his outright release by the Pacific Coast league club.

The parting of the ways apparently was by mutual consent.

Wakefield, who left the University of Michigan campus in 1941 to sign with the Detroit Tigers for $52,000, wants to try to land in the major leagues, where his previous career was a stormy one.

"The management of the club has nothing but good feeling toward Wakefield," President Clarence L. (Brick) Laws said.

Had So-So Season
Wakefield, had an indifferent season after joining the Oaks as a left fielder last year. He saw action only as a pinch hitter in the early weeks of the current season. He went hitless in five tries.

In 15 exhibition games, including contests against the New York Yankees, Cleveland Indians and Pittsburgh Pirates, he had a .342 average.

Before departing for Ann Arbor, Mich., by plane, Wakefield said he was in better shape than at any time in the last two years and felt he should have been playing more.

He said he plans to contact friends in both major leagues and offer his services on the same $1 contract basis as here—then either make good or get his release.

Deal Questioned
There appeared, however, to be some question whether such a deal could be arranged, in view of the $5,000 minimum salary rule in the majors.

The Yankees obtained Wakefield from Detroit in December, 1949, but Wakefield was a brief holdout before signing his 1950 New York contract. Early in the 1950 season he was traded to the Chicago White Sox.

He refused to report without a $5,000 pay increase, which the White Sox refused to pay. They called the deal off, and then the Yanks refused to take Wakefield back.

Chandler Voided Deal
Commissioner Happy Chandler later voided the deal and ruled Wakefield Yankee property. They suspended him indefinitely without pay, subsequently reinstated him and on May 25, sold him to Oakland.

But he refused to report to the Oaks. The next day he met with Chandler and agreed to come West. Three days later he signed an Oakland contract at $17,500.

Gov. Stevenson Sends Budget To Legislature

the present fiscal period. Reappropriations are special items for which the state is committed from the preceding budget period.

The total amount of new money for spending includes $985,116,000 from state sources, and $221,175,000 from the federal government. Uncle Sam helps foot the bill for such programs as old age pensions, health, highways and jobless payments.

Stevenson said the budget reflects only a three per cent net increase in general fund appropriations.

45 Per Cent of Levy
He said public assistance to the needy, the old and dependent, plus grants to local governments such as schools, account for 45 per cent of the total proposed outlay.

Operating expenses make up 38 per cent, construction items 10 per cent, and debt service and tax refunds seven per cent.

One of the large expenses is $124,000,000 in state grants to grade and high schools. This is up $23,581,000 from the current figure and will enable the state to pay school claims in full on the basis of $160 a pupil.

Pay Boost
Stevenson also called for $14,000,000 to give state employees a 10 per cent cost of living jump in paychecks.

He put down $143,000,000 for old age pensions, $50,000,000 for poor relief, $75,300,000 for highway construction; $61,167,000 for highway maintenance, and $108,000,000 for operating the welfare department.

He is counting on $615,000,000 in general revenue receipts during the next two years, compared with $563,000,000 in the present budget period.

The state will rely on the sales tax, largest single money raiser, to bring in $400,000,000.

Based on Higher Sales
This estimate is $48,000,000 above what actual collections from the tax area expected to be in the 1949-51 biennium. Stevenson said the estimate is based on a continuation of current high price levels and high rate of consumer spending.

To help balance the books, the state also will use $60,000,000 of its general revenue surplus.

Stevenson said when his new housekeeping period ends in 1953, there probably won't be more than $2,000,000 left in the treasury's general fund.

"We have included little or nothing which may not be spent," he declared.

Calculations Realistic
"Moreover, we believe our calculations are realistic within the limits of the present uncertainties."

"We are not underestimating probable income to give us a hidden cushion of safety. Nor are we underestimating expenditure needs in order to keep the budget total down to create a good if misleading impression."

He said the legislators should realize "there is no room in this budget for additional appropriations." He urged them not to add to the budget "without also subtracting from it."

The only city aid proposal in the budget was a new program designed to help Chicago.

Contribute to Indigent
The state will pay $18,000,000 as its share of the cost of medically indigent in Cook county. Under a complicated plan, Chicago will benefit by $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 a year which it can raise in property taxes while the Cook county government reduces its levy by the same amount.

Another new program is $6,500,000 to meet the state's share of cost of aiding the disabled which congress last year added to the social security program.

Requests from state agencies for building funds were trimmed sharply by Stevenson.

The Evening Telegraph will make newspaper history on May 1 with its giant 270-page Centennial edition, the largest single edition ever published in the midwest.

More than 800 persons, including devotees of the great American humorist and professional collectors, attended the opening day of the three-day auction.

Perhaps the largest collection of furnishings and belongings of the writer ever to go on the block is being sold by his daughter, Mrs. Clara Clemens Samoussoud.

Mansion To Be Sold

Also being sold is the 12-room mansion belonging to her and her husband, Jacques Samoussoud, symphony conductor, which includes a five-acre estate and swimming pool in the Hollywood hills. A high bid of $40,000 has been made for the estate so far. It still is open for bid.

Several paintings and etchings, some owned by Twain, were auctioned.

CORRECTION—In last night's advertisement with the following caption: An open letter to the voters and citizens of Dixon. Paragraph ten should have read: We are also informed by advertising and workers for the present mayor's administration, that the tax rate has been raised slightly less than two cents. Actually it amounts to around 38¢ to 40¢ increase in money. It has resulted in dollars and cents to nearly a quarter of a million dollars.

Citizens of Dixon

Here Are the Facts Relative to Recent Political Propaganda

No one is pleased than I to commend another for services well done, but, like you, object to claims for such when not earned.

Reduction of city debt of $65,000.00 is but the normal reduction for four years by the retirement of special bonds voted for the construction of the Peoria Avenue bridge, the sewage disposal plant and intercepting sewers and for which taxes are levied each year to meet the annual payment and interest on same. No money used from General Fund. Said tax cannot be used for any other purpose.

Sanitary Sewers: Upon presentation of a petition signed by a majority of property owners abutting the line of the proposed improvement it becomes obligatory upon the Board of Local Improvements to proceed by legal steps to obtain same for them. When constructed, the entire cost of same is paid by the property owners by special assessments, which become a lien upon the property until payment of the final assessment. No money used from the General Fund, other than engineering and attorney's fees, which is returned to the fund upon collection of the assessments.

Increased personnel of the police and fire departments made possible by special police and fire tax, voted four years ago by the electorate.

Raise in pay of police and firemen and other necessary city employees is most commendable and ways and means to pay them more should be found. I am informed that the take-home pay of a patrolman and fireman is approximately $53.00 per week. Anyone with a family of children knows this is not enough.

Increase in street lighting has been and still is by the generous cooperation of the I.N.U. Company—now Public Service Company—at little or no increase cost to the city and has been a normal procedure over the past years.

Do-nothing Slothower was mayor of the city council April, 1943 to April, 1947—three years of which the nation was at war.

That city council took good care of city affairs and in addition was occupied with all types of war effort, viz: Civilian Defense, Rationing, Organization of a Reserve Militia to replace the State Militia called to war, Junk drives and Scrap Paper pick ups, money raising for the U.S.O., Chinese and Jewish Relief, etc.

Restrictions on materials for non-defense projects made it impossible to make any major improvements.

However, that city council contracted for a modern fire-fighting pumper and equipment, deliver of which was delayed because of restrictions on material until the seating of a new council and for which the out-going council left a $20,000 G. Bond in the treasury for payment thereof.

Granted that some progress has been made during the past four years, it is nothing more than the normal progress made over the years by the hard work of our business men and the cooperation of previous city councils.

Certainly, an increase of $229,711.06 in taxes, plus several thousand dollars increase in license fees, fines and parking meter income the past four years should give something in return.

Our city has no means of obtaining money, other than from its citizens and guests, either by direct taxes or indirect means, such as licenses, fines and parking meters. All governments spend money—not earn it. I am pleased to be called a conservative, as such men will be badly needed in the city council before the end of the coming term because of the loss of its share of the Public Service Company's capital stock tax.

I now urge you to vote Tuesday, April 17th, and if elected will serve you as a member of the council honestly, honorably, conscientiously and carefully.

Should you desire transportation to the polls, dial 4-9401, Slothower Hardware.

Don't Be Satisfied With Symptomatic Relief

YES, HADACOL MAKES IT POSSIBLE TO RELIEVE THE CAUSE OF

Aches and Pains, Stomach Distress, Weak, Run-down Conditions and Nervousness When Due To Lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron In Your System

Mrs. A. Plonka of 3202 S. Aberdeen, Chicago, Ill.: "My daughter Carmelita, who is 10 years old and in the fifth grade, had always been underweight and I had to positively force her to eat. She had no interest in food whatsoever, but I knew that she had to eat. When we were visiting my mother in Missouri over the Christmas holidays she suggested I give Carmelita HADACOL. I bought a large bottle of it that same day and was amazed at the change in Carmelita. Her appetite picked right up and she now eats three hearty meals a day plus in-between snacks. I have really praised HADACOL, and highly recommend it."

G. E. Moncus, 221 Columbus St., Montgomery, Ala.: "Quite some time ago I began to have indigestion and sour stomach. My food just didn't digest right. I'd get a full, 'gassy' feeling after I ate. This affected my appetite and my weight. I was run-down, too. My wife started taking HADACOL and so did my daughter. I saw how much it had helped them, so I started taking it. And HADACOL has certainly helped me, too. My stomach never bothers me any more. I have a terrific appetite and have gained weight. I have lots of energy and just feel good in every way. I think HADACOL is wonderful. I wish I could tell everyone just how wonderful it really is."

Mrs. W. O. Jones, 7244 N. Bell St., Chicago, Ill.: "I am a housewife and mother of three children. I had been feeling very run-down, would tire so easily, and just felt listless. My mother-in-law suggested I take HADACOL, as she had heard of it through friends of hers. I just took it for a few days, when I noticed I was feeling stronger and seemed to have more energy. I continued taking HADACOL and it has certainly built up my strength. I am no longer run-down, don't tire nearly as much. I am now on my sixth large bottle of HADACOL, and intend to continue taking it."

William J. Dunlap, 4404 Freer St., Apt. 2, Detroit, Mich.: "Along with the pains I suffered my body had a tired, worn-out feeling. I had to force myself to keep going. I read about HADACOL and decided to give it a try. Am now on my fifth bottle and would not be without an ample supply. My first bottle gave me astonishing relief, and at this time of writing I feel better, without a pain or ache. Am a dairy employee, 54 years old. Veteran of two world wars. Active overseas in both. I have given your HADACOL every praise to friends and relatives and know some are using it with just as astonishing results as I myself have found."

Give HADACOL A Chance To Help YOU

If your system lacks these essential elements, you will be amazed at the wonderful results HADACOL can bring you, as it has to thousands of other fine folks who suffered a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

HADACOL is that wonderful new preparation—promising blessed relief for your indigestion, stomach disturbances (gas, heartburn, sour "risings" after meals), as well as that general run-down condition, and annoying aches and pains, if due to a lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin in your system. Don't go through life suffering with conditions caused by such deficiencies when relief may be as close at hand as the nearest drugstore for sufferers from these deficiencies. Buy HADACOL today. Trial size bottle only $1.25. Large family economy size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes. There's only one true and genuine HADACOL.

FIGURES IN MILLIONS. (EXCLUDES THOSE IN SCHOOLS AND INSTITUTIONS.)

To meet our defense production goals, according to Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson, the number of workers in defense work will have to be boosted three to four million in 1951. Most of these new workers must come from the 38,000,000 persons of working age who are not in the "labor force," as the Newschart above illustrates. These include housewives with grown children, older persons and the handicapped. The major impact of defense production on civilian industries, Wilson warns, lies ahead. Washington planners say a real pinch in manpower will come next fall.

Truman the Historian Bases U. S. Future on Distant Past

By ED CREAGH
WASHINGTON, (AP) —You've heard a lot about Truman the president, Truman the letter-writer, Truman the plain man from the Missouri farm.

Now meet Harry Truman the historian.

More and more, the man in the White House is looking into the past for a key to understanding the present—and perhaps as a guide to the future.

"There isn't any difference," he told a group of magazine editors, "between Hitler and Mussolini, Tarquin in ancient Rome, the tyrants in Sparta, Charles the First of England, Louis the 14th—and Stalin."

Out in Kansas City during the winter Mr. Truman made a similar excursion into the past.

Founded in History

"Our growth and our laws," he told a luncheon meeting of newspapermen, "are founded on those originating with Hammurabi in the Mesopotamian valley, pronounced by Moses and elaborated on by Jesus Christ."

He told the note-scribbling reporters:

"I wish you would read more history."

An interest in history is nothing new Mr. Truman. He's been an avid reader since boyhood. He likes American history in particular, is fascinated by anything Andrew Jackson, loves to talk about the pioneer days in Missouri.

Interest Broadens

But his interest seems to have broadened and deepened with the developing world crisis and to have given him renewed confidence that the United States, in the long run, will survive the world crisis.

In a speech to an assemblage of fellow Masons he said:

"I hope you will spend some time reading of certain crises which we have faced."

All Met Crises

"Washington had a terrific one in 1796. He met it."

"Old (Andrew) Jackson had one of the best, and he met it."

"In the 1860's we had another crisis, and Abraham Lincoln met it. Woodrow Wilson faced the same situation."

"And we will meet this situation just as those were met. And when we get through we will have a peaceful world, and a world that is safe for you and myself and everybody else to live in. I know that is coming."

Growth of Religious Interest Means Turn to God for Refuge

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
Uncle Sam and Aunt Samantha are proving once more that they are able to clean their own house. Two recent expressions of the basic decency and common sense of the American people offer the strongest defense against the threat of foreign ideologies and political corruption.

One was the surge of national indignation, expressed in tons of mail to congressmen, after the Kefauver committee's exposure of the unholy alliance of gangsterism and politics in some of our cities.

The other is the tremendous increase in church membership in the United States—the most eloquent answer to those who would sell the nation on Communism.

Increase 51.5 Per Cent

A recent survey by the National Council of Churches shows an increase of 51.5 per cent in church membership throughout the nation since 1926—an increase 20 per cent ahead of the population increase.

The survey covered 54 religious bodies accounting for 87 per cent of the church membership in the nation and including Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths.

It is the old story of a rush for refuge when the going gets tough. When the world seems doomed by dark and unknown terrors, men and women through the ages have turned to the church as the one unchanging bulwark against fear.

Retreat Movement Grows

One manifestation of the great surge of religious interest among all kinds of people is the growth of the retreat movement, not only among Catholics, but in the Protestant churches, as well.

Around New York there are dozens of quiet country estates or mountain lodges where busy men and women periodically take a weekend off from the crush of business and social routines to take spiritual inventory. In some of the retreat centers the weekend is spent in total silence. In others there are periods of discussion.

The underlying idea of all them is to provide a place where harried moderns can take stock of themselves and their beliefs.

Be Not Surprised at Russia's Build-Up, It's Nothing New

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Many will be made anxious but none need be surprised at the statement by Speaker Rayburn of the U. S. house of representatives that "we are in terrible danger" because the Russians are building up troop concentrations "here, there and everywhere."

The creation of Russian military strength has been proceeding with increasing intensity ever since the Bolsheviks came to power more than a generation ago. It is a natural corollary to their world revolution for the spread of Communism.

Maneuvers Not Strange
The late war gave them a chance to strengthen their positions in both Europe and Asia. It's not strange now to find them deploying military forces at strategic points for eventualities, especially in the Asiatic theater where numerous Red upheavals, including the Korean war, have developed.

Does this mean Russia is getting ready to launch another major war?
Well, it means she is getting ready for possible war. So are the democracies getting set for contingencies. And when two opposing forces are, so to speak, drawn up in battle array, the situation always is precarious.

Cold War Successful
However, Russia has given no indication she wants big-time war at this precise juncture. Her cold war operations are too successful to warrant discarding them for an all-out conflict.

The concentration of Red military strength in strategic points is nothing new but has been going on under our anxious eyes for years.
Of course the situation is terribly dangerous. Still, our greatest immediate peril may lie in the potentialities of the Asiatic situation. If we should allow ourselves to be drawn into a major war with Red China, then another world conflict would be almost inevitable. Russia would join China, and undoubtedly has concentrations of troops in Siberia ready for action if necessary.

Of course, as Speaker Rayburn says, "We are in terrible danger." However, we have been in grave danger for a long time, especially since the Korean war broke out.

40th Division Lands in Japan

YOKOHAMA, Japan—(AP)—First elements of the U. S. 40th "rough and tough" infantry division landed today to strengthen General MacArthur's occupation army in Japan.

The 40th, a National Guard outfit from California, marched off the navy transport General Butler in combat clothes and field kits, ready for action.

At one of the critical periods in the Revolutionary war, General George Washington issued this order to the Continental Army: "Put none but Americans on guard tonight." The reason for this was that he wanted men he could depend upon.

President Truman Completes Six Years in White House on Thursday; They've Been Tough

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Truman will have been in the White House six years on Thursday, April 12. They have been tremendous years, as tough as any president ever faced. How has he made out?

This can only hit some high spots.

When he succeeded President Roosevelt, the war was still on, in Europe and Asia. He led the country to peace in both places and then into the reconversion to peace and the greatest prosperity the country ever had.

Now he is leading the country back into a period of preparedness for war. When he entered the White House six years ago he had great popular support. Now the polls say his popularity has slipped away down.

It is not the first time his popularity slipped. It hit a low back in 1946 elections when the Republicans won control of congress for the first time since 1932.

Era of Communism

He surged back, when almost no one thought he had a chance, to a stunning victory in the presidential elections of 1948. He may come out of his present slump. It would be a sturdy prophet who would predict otherwise.

But while Truman sat in the White House and the country grew fat and rich after the war, Communism spread like a flame in other parts of the world. During the war about 190,000,000 were under Communism in Russia.

Now the number is about 735,000,000 counting China, the satellites and part of Korea. And at this moment this country and its Western Allies are girding for what may be World War III with the Communist Allies.

Could It Have Been Stopped? Whether Truman, short of war, could have prevented the spread of Communism anywhere that it has taken over is, of course, the subject of much debate, particularly when China is involved.

But it may be a century before the historians, with the benefit of records and the perspective of 100 years, can attempt to say with any authority that Truman could have changed the picture, short of war. Certainly he sparked the Marshall plan which is credited in large part with not only stopping the spread of Communism to Western Europe but even with pushing it into retreat there.

Truman expanded that role by leading the country into the Atlantic Pact, that league of Western nations which have banded together and pledged themselves to go to war if Communism attacks.

Pushed Into Asia He pushed the new American role of world champion into Asia, too, when he rushed American troops into Korea to stop Communism there. That has been a see-saw fight, with the outcome still uncertain, and over much confusion now about our goal there.

At home, after delaying, he got the country started on a great defense program. That hasn't been all smooth sailing by a long shot and he's still tryin gto find a way to make it click.

Still, as the years pass, Truman seems more remote from the people. His talks to the nation have become fewer and fewer until the question is raised in many places: "Where is the leadership?"

He's been on the receiving end of criticism without much evidence of that aggressive spirit he showed when he campaigned for the presidency in 1948, when everyone thought it was a lost cause.

Meteorologist Dies

OSLO, Norway—(AP)—Dr. Wilhelm Bjerknes, called the father of modern meteorology, died last night at the age of 89.

The Norwegian physicist took the initiative in 1918 in establishing the meteorological service at Bergen, on Norway's west coast, where he evolved the wave theory of meteorology, a big step in reliable weather forecasting.

to Enrich your Home?*

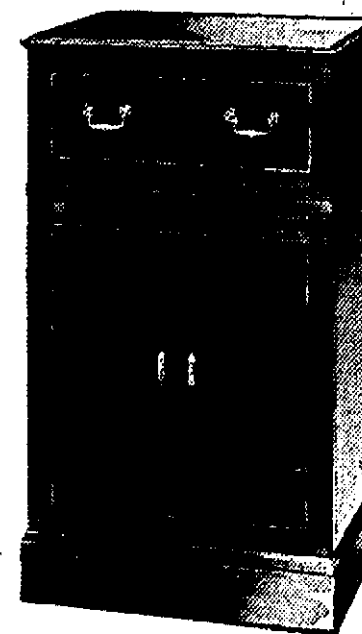

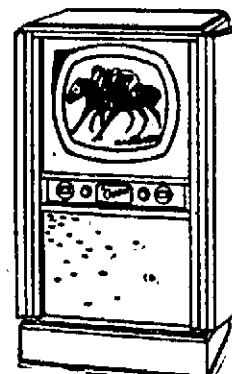

FOR CLARITY AND DEPTH the new Capehart television rivals the motion picture. In sound, none can compare with the tonal quality of the world-famous Capehart Symphonic-Tone System. In cabinet styling, every Capehart is an exquisite piece of furniture you'll be proud to own. And prices are so modest that it is almost unbelievable that you can get so much in a television receiver for so little.

Why wait longer to enrich your home? Stop in—see the distinguished Capehart Television instruments.

The CAPEHART "William Penn" 16-inch picture tube. "Synchro-Sound" provides perfect synchronization of picture and sound. Capehart Symphonic-Tone. Mahogany veneer English 18th Century

The CAPEHART "Virginian," Big 17-inch rectangular tube for "full-scale" picture of photographic quality. Deeply paneled doors—fold-down flaps—highlight a rich mahogany veneer cabinet in Chippendale styling. Capehart Symphonic-Tone.

TO PROBE MORALS -- Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D., Ill.), above, heads a Senate subcommittee that will look into "federal morals and ethics." Hearings will begin about the first of May in the investigation which, the senator hopes, will put an end to "government at cocktail bars," and replace "discredited tissue" uncovered by Senate RFC and crime probes with "healthy, growing tissue."

PRESENTING—as the kickoff to the Dixon Merchants-Dixon Telegraph Better Home Show—JOHNNIE KAYE and his "Sweetest Music of Today"! The nine-piece orchestra, led by accordionist Kaye (left), will play the waltzes, rhumbas, old favorites and "today's" tunes that you like to hear, as you like to hear them. Besides being hep instrumentally, the boys get together and form a band glee club. Remember ... Johnnie and the band are featured Thursday night only, so be at the Armory at 7:00 and 9:00.

These Are the Big Entertainers

You Will See at the

BETTER HOME SHOW

in the DIXON ARMORY

She sings, too! Looks PLUS a voice. Lovely Shirley Dee will de-light you with popular ballads, as Johnnie's band gives her smooth backing. Need we say more?

Versatile Jack Meglan not only is vocalist for the Kaye clan, he plays alto sax and clarinet. Jack has no trouble giving with a lilting tune. We advise ... don't miss him either.

Friday, April 13th

Doors Open 6:15 p. m. First Showing 7:00 p. m.
Second Showing 9:00 p. m. Admission -- 25c

PRESENTING—JIMMY CAMPBELL and his band! Those of you who attended last year's Home Show will remember him well. To those who haven't heard Jimmy's band we offer condolences—and urge you catch these top performers Friday night. Better and more melodious than ever before (if possible). Friday only!

By Attending the Better Home Show You Will Find Exhibits of

Refrigeration
Building Material
Heating and Plumbing
Floor Coverings
Tires
Frozen Food

Television
Roofing Materials
Insulation
Radios
Dairy

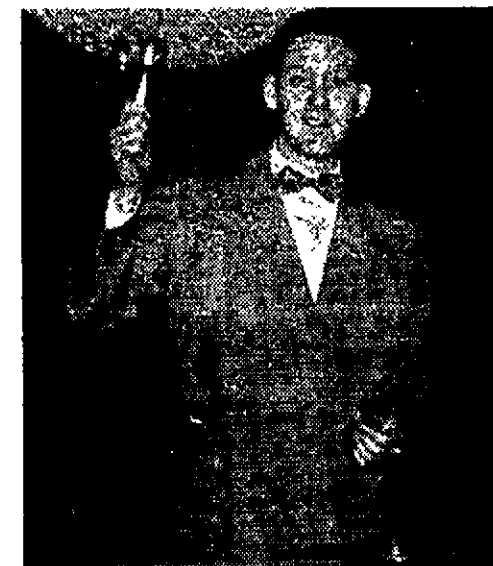

Silver and Glassware
Deep Freezers
Paints, Wallpapers
and many other items which aid better living

Take our word for it, Jimmy plays a sweet sax. As leader of the band, he's the man—the one that'll bring you music and lots of it. If you can't make it at 7:00, see Jimmy at 9.

B-O-I-N-G! Which is just another way of saying vocalist Christine will be there. Music lovers had better get seats early, for that front row is going to be plenty crowded.

Jim Brady—novelty man and drummer deluxe. He's got an act using two spoons that is a true show stopper. Whatever Brady does, you are assured of one thing: it'll be lively entertainment.

PRESENTING—"THE BUDDIES OF THE AIRLINES"! From radio station WHBF come these three madcap entertainers. They can play the music straight ... or gag it up. Saturday, the last night, the "Buddies" will cap the Better Home Show. If it's fun you want here it is in this zany gang, the "Buddies of the Airlines"!

Pat Maynard is a skilled pianist having his own program, "Etchings in Ivory." He's also musician in WHBF's "Dream Time" and "Memory Lane". The company he keeps, though, can lead to riotous musical shenanigans.

Another of the gleesome threesome, Speed Froman, who sings and plays the guitar for the "Buddies of the Airlines". Speed is no slouch at laughs or skill, so watch for him.

Curly Bray, whose attention seems to be wondering, is the bass man. He completes the Buddies, each of whom is a one-man show. Put them together and ... well, come out Saturday and see for yourself!
